PROF. LAMSON URGES PROTECTION OF DAIRY COWS

As soon as the cows are taken in from the pasture in the winter, they should be treated for ticks, according to Prof. G. H. Lamson of the Connecticut Agricultural College.

While the ticks will not show in large numbers at this time of the year, they will, nevertheless, be present and if cows are kept in and wintered, the ticks will become more numerous, until January, February and March when people will complain of the large numbers of ticks that are on the cows.

In order to reduce the numbers and keep ahead of their increase, control measures should start early and be repeated more or less through the winter, says Prof. Lamson.

One of the best means of treatment and one that is cheap and effective, is dipping the grooming brush in a small amount of kerosene oil and brushing thoroughly over the coat of the animal, particularly over the forehead, neck, shoulders, the upper portions of the back and along the inside of the thighs, as these are the portions of the cow most infested with these parasites.

This treatment should be repeated in twelve (12) or thirteen (13) days after the first treatment. To accomplish this, it should be repeated each month thereafter.

Certain preventive methods are all available in the use of any treatment for ticks, as the cows will be particularly sensitive to almost any tickicide. One applying the oil should use it sparingly, instead of smothering the skin with a large amount of oil. The treatment should be repeated in twelve (12) or thirteen (13) days after the first treatment. To accomplish this, it should be repeated each month thereafter.

STONINGTON

William Florop, a resident of the borough for many years, who died at his home on Bradley street, at 4 a. m. Sunday, had been in feeble health for a long time. While at work in the back yard, he was suddenly seized with a shock, was taken into the house and became unconscious. Mr. Florop was a velvet weaver and for many years was employed by the American Velvet Co. He was among the first of the men to be employed when the mill was established in the borough and followed his trade until failing health compelled him to give up work. He was born in Germany, March 21, 1855. He is survived by his wife and a daughter and a son. Funeral services were held at his home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. D. C. Stone conducted the service. Burial was in Stonington cemetery.

PLAINFIELD

The Plainfield community association has contracted with a producing company to produce one of the latest and best musical comedies here. The title of the show selected is "At Abroad" and is from the pen of the late June McCree. New York put the stamp of approval on "At Abroad" a short time ago when it enjoyed a lengthy run on Broadway. Rehearsals are expected to begin just after the first of the year under the direction of one of the firm's expert producers. The affair will be managed by the house committee of the association, under the direction of its chairman, Edward P. King. The other members of the committee, William Collins, Theresa Sullivan, Ida Wilmet, Margaret West, Louis Lamphie, Jr., with James Roy, Robert West and Leslie Perkins, have already started an active campaign to put the affair across. At a meeting of the house committee Monday evening the following committees were chosen: Publicity, Louis Lamphie, Robert West, Roy, Father Morrissey, Rev. David Connors, Samuel Butterworth and Edwin Murphy; program committee, the same; costumes, with Robert West, James Roy, and Leslie Perkins; talent or play committee, Leslie Perkins, chairman, Rose Beauvoir, secretary, Robert West, James Roy, Benjamin Dawson, Roy, Greer, Joan, Kinsey, Annie, Thelma, Lee, Ray, Jack, Leahy, Lawrence Crookes, Sidney Hopkins, Henrietta Barry and Philip Peterson.

The Plainfield basketball team starts its season here Friday evening with the Jewett City Pioneers. Plainfield expects to have a fast team this year and ought to put on a good brand of basketball all year. The Buddies will play the Jewett City game with the Jewett City Pioneers. Local fans eagerly await the coming season.

The Girls' Friendly society held their weekly meeting in the Community house Monday evening.

The shop committee held its December meeting in the Community house Monday evening. Agent Samuel T. Butterworth of the National Life corporation presided. The evening school was instructed and entertained by a stereoscopic lecture Monday evening in place of the regular studies. Miss Elliott and Miss English gave an interesting description of the southern states.

COLUMBIA

An entertainment was given by members of Echo Grange of Mansfield Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Under the auspices of the Columbia Grange Dramatic club. The proceeds will be applied toward the expenses of the Christmas festival of Columbia grange. The program consisted of music by the orchestra, readings by Mrs. Anthony and Mrs. Swift, negro melodies by a mixed quartette and vocal solos by Miss Ruth Horlock, Robert Stearns and Alfred Dodd. A one-act play was to have been given, but Daniel C. Flaherty, first selectman of Mansfield, one of the company, was detained at Mansfield, assisting the officials of Storrs college to house a flock of sheep which had been left out after dark, and among which it was stated dogs were making trouble.

Greenwich.—A continuance of at least a month will delay the divorce proceedings of Alfred W. Church of Greenwich, wealthy broker, against his wife, Mrs. Elsie J. Church, also of Greenwich. Church charges his wife with misconduct on a number of occasions, and witnesses from all parts of the world are expected to be called to trial. A gift of property valued at between $250,000 and $300,000 and by Church to his wife, probably will be the subject of much controversy.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

CLEAR THE THROAT of phlegm and mucus, stops that tickling, opens the air passages for easier breathing and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

Grateful Father Tells What It Did

W. E. Curry, 130 Up St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "I have a little girl 6 years who has a good deal of trouble with croup. I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, giving it her according to directions, and obtaining instant relief for her. My wife and I use it whenever bothered with a bad cold or cough, and I will say that it is the best remedy for a bad cold, cough, throat trouble or croup that I ever saw."

Parents who use Foley's Honey and Tar know it is safe and no harm would be given by accident. It tastes good and children like it. It won't upset the delicate stomachs of young children, delicate persons or elderly people.
